A new schedule of extra fare rates on the "New York and Chicase Limited Express," via the Pennsylvania ralicoad, went into effect Monday, March 15, the extra fair being reduced $2 from New York and Philadelphia and $1.50 from Washington and Baltimore to Chicago, and a corresponding reduction made to other points. This reduction will onable passengers traveling via the Pennsylvania ralicoad to take passage on the popular "Limited Express" at a slight charge in excess of the usual rate on other regular trains. This train is one of the most completely appointed passenger trains in the world, embracing, as it does, all the comforts and conveniences of a first-class hotel. It is composed exclusively of dining, sleeping, parlor, and smoking cars. Meals are served en route at the uniform rate of $1.

District Water Filtration. Capt. Symonds, in a letter to Health Officer Townshend, asks for the latter's views as to Townsheld, asia for the latter's views as to the advisability of filtering the water supply of the city before it reaches the main. Dr. Townsheld, in reply, deems it a matter of su-preme importance, and as a sanitary measure he commends the suggestion of Capt. Symonds.

We buy out of town, but that is no reason you should. We buy out of town because we can buy cheaper, but this is not your case. Most people buy out of town because they have the idea that they can find larger assortments to select from than in town. This is true, and it is also not true. If one could come in contact with the stock itself, doubtless he could find a larger assortment of goods in Philadelphia or New York than in Washington; but he does not come in contact with

It, and in reality his range of selection is very contracted when he buys out of town. We do not ask you to buy in
